

EDUCATION

Department Description

The mission of the Education Department is to develop reflective practitioners who are passionate, ethical school leaders, well prepared in the scholarship, methodology, and professionalism of teaching to successfully cultivate the diverse gifts of each student.

The Education Department seeks to prepare professional educators who have internalized the values of education and who have the passion and commitment to play a critical role in the development of children and society. Additionally, the department supports and encourages its students to explore leadership positions in education. Education students are expected to demonstrate excellence in scholarship and academic ability.

Graduates of the Saint Mary's College Education Department will have the professional knowledge, skills, and dispositions required to meet the needs of students in today's diverse classrooms. The department is committed to developing beginning teachers who value diversity; are able to work for and support issues of social justice; are active against causes of alienation, poverty, and oppression; and support dignity within the profession and within the larger society.

Graduates will have a broad professional knowledge base that enables them to deliver effective instruction using a wide variety of methodologies in a manner that is student centered and focused on individual needs. Graduates will demonstrate compassion for the students and families they serve. They will conduct their professional practice in an ethical and moral manner. Graduates of the Education Department will be reflective practitioners who are able to analyze and grow from their teaching experiences throughout their professional careers.

Study Abroad

Saint Mary's has a long history of providing quality international programs as an essential part of our educational mission—forming women leaders who will make a difference in the world. As this world becomes increasingly interdependent, the College offers an expanding range of semester, year, semester break, and summer study and service programs in a wide variety of countries, and encourages students to take advantage of them. Study abroad for Education majors fits best spring of sophomore year.

Teacher Preparation

The undergraduate teacher education program offers an Elementary Education major (grades K–6) and a Secondary Education major (grades 5–12). Music Education (P–12) and Art Education (P–12) are also offered. The performance-based standards for the initial preparation of teachers are those recommended by the Office of Educator Effectiveness and Licensing, Indiana Department of Education.

Accreditation

All teacher education programs are approved by the Indiana Department of Education Office of Educator Effectiveness and Licensing and the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation.

Note: Specific course requirements for all license areas are in a period of transition because of changes in licensure being implemented by the Indiana Department of Education. Contact the Education Department for current updates.

Policies for the Elementary Education Major and Secondary Education Major

It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and meet the specific requirements and deadlines for the B.A. in Elementary Education or B.A. in Secondary Education (including Music Education and Art Education). Students majoring in Elementary Education must also complete an additional licensure area or college minor. (Contact the Education Department for specific information.) Secondary majors complete a second major in one of the approved majors (see above).

STEP I—General Education and Introduction to the Profession

Students must complete STEP I (Standards-Based Teacher Education Program) to be admitted to the Education Department.

- Achieve a cumulative 2.75 grade point average (with basic skills demonstrated through standardized testing) OR a cumulative 3.0 grade point average (with basic skills demonstrated through Sophia coursework).
- Earn the Saint Mary's College Writing Proficiency.
- Complete EDUC 201 Foundations for Teaching in a Multicultural Society with a grade of B- or above.
- Complete the EDUC 201 Foundations for Teaching in a Multicultural Society field experience with a satisfactory evaluation.
- Demonstrate basic skills competency either through either: (1) Sophia coursework with a minimum of a B or better earned the first time taking Sophia-certified literature, math, and writing courses and an overall cumulative GPA of 3.0 (rather than the minimum 2.75 for the Education major); or (2) through standardized testing (contact the Education Department for specific information).
- Submit an application to the department.
- Submit acceptable dispositions evaluations.

STEP II—Professional Studies and Content Preparation

Students must be admitted to the Education Department prior to beginning courses in STEP II.

- Maintain a cumulative 2.75 GPA.
- Complete all Education courses beyond EDUC 201 Foundations for Teaching in a Multicultural Society with a grade of C or above.
- Complete and submit the application for student teaching.
- Complete all required field experiences at a satisfactory level (minimum 5 hours per week) Note: Additional licensures require additional hours.
- Maintain appropriate teaching dispositions.

STEP III—Integrated Studies

- Maintain a cumulative 2.75 grade point average.
- Complete all Education courses beyond EDUC 201 Foundations for Teaching in a Multicultural Society with a grade of C or above.
- Complete the year-long internship at a satisfactory level (fall-field/spring-student-teaching).

- Earn the Advanced Writing proficiency. (Secondary Education majors complete the writing requirements in their content major.)
- Complete requirements for the Education Portfolio at the Developing level.

Note: Student teachers are required to follow their assigned school calendars.

- Pass the state-approved licensing assessments.
- Demonstrate proficiency in student teaching assessments.
- Complete the Education Portfolio at the Proficient level.

Note: A student who enters the department late may request permission from the Chair to adjust his/her schedule of required Education courses if a 3.0 grade point average is achieved. Adjustments will be made on an individual basis for transfer students and for those who study abroad.

License to Teach in Indiana

Completion of Education courses does not guarantee a license to teach in Indiana.

To obtain a license to teach in Indiana, the student:

- Must have completed an additional licensure area or college minor in addition to the Elementary Education major or the Secondary Education major in addition to a college content major approved for Saint Mary's College.
- Must obtain valid CPR-Heimlich Maneuver-AED from approved Indiana providers. (<https://www.in.gov/doe> (<https://www.in.gov/doe/>)).
- Must obtain valid certificate verifying Evidence-based Child Suicide Prevention.
- Must pass state-approved licensing assessments (Contact the Education Department for specific information.)
- Submit application for Indiana licensure.

License to Teach Outside Indiana

Students who seek licensure in a state other than Indiana must assume responsibility to meet specific requirements for licensing in that state. Although Interstate Agreement Contracts exist between the state of Indiana and other states, some of these states have additional requirements. Students should consult the state's Department of Education, Teacher Licensure Office for specific requirements.

Governmental Requirements for Some Professions

Some professions (e.g. nursing, teaching, social work, speech therapy, accounting, etc.) require specific requirements for licensure and/or hiring (e.g. acceptable criminal background check, sex offender check, drug and alcohol testing, citizenship or permanent resident status documentation, valid immigration status for non-US citizens, valid social security number, etc.). Such requirements may also apply to required clinical and fieldwork, or other out-of-class room experience necessary to complete degree requirements in the majors related to these professions. These requirements are determined by laws and regulations at both the state and federal levels and are subject to change. Saint Mary's College strongly urges all admitted and current students to research and understand the appropriate requirements for their intended course of study and profession. Compliance with these requirements is the responsibility of the student and the graduate. You should become informed and continue to monitor such requirements as laws and other legal requirements are subject to change.

Education Department Teacher Candidate Standards (Learning Outcomes)

Standard 1: Student Development and Diversity

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate applies knowledge of student development, including issues of diversity, to meet learner needs.

Standard 2: Learning Processes

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate uses knowledge of how learning occurs to increase student learning.

Standard 3: Instructional Planning and Delivery

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate can plan and deliver learning experiences that are standards-based, data-driven, differentiated, tiered, culturally responsive, assessable, and grounded in current technologies.

Standard 4: Assessment

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate uses both formative and summative assessments to promote and monitor continuous student learning.

Standard 5: Learning Environment

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate can apply the factors that create a safe, healthy, supportive, and inclusive learning environment that respects cultural diversity and reflects high expectations using positive and supportive classroom management.

Standard 6: The Professional Environment

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate productively collaborates with diverse stakeholders to ensure and support learning, recognizing and advocating for job-embedded professional development.

Standard 7: Reading

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate can identify and define the foundations of literacy development grounded in scientifically-based reading instruction, as well as use developmentally appropriate practices of evidence-based instruction.

Standard 8: Content

- A Saint Mary's College teacher candidate demonstrates deep knowledge of the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structure of the discipline(s) taught and uses that knowledge to create learning experiences that make these aspects of the discipline accessible and meaningful to learners.

Education Courses

Note: Courses that require a semester-long field experience (3 or 5 hours per week) are identified with Field Experience. Transportation is required.

EDUC 100 Strategies for Academic Success (2)

This course is designed to provide comprehensive college level study skills that apply to academic and career success. Strategies and techniques are presented and integrated with the exploration of motivation and goal setting.

EDUC 201 Foundations for Teaching in a Multicultural Society (3)

This course is an introduction to teaching and learning in the educational system of the United States of America today. The essential background roles of history, governance, financing, philosophy, and law are set in a multicultural framework that considers the thematic question: What does it mean to be a teacher in a multicultural society? The thematic question is applied to the content topics of (1) culture, pluralism, and equality; (2) class; (3) ethnicity; (4) race; (5) gender; (6) exceptionality; (7) religion; (8) language, and (9) age. Explication of standards for teaching, outcomes-based performance assessment, and documentation of the scholarship of teaching are included. Thirty (30) hours of field experience are required. Students must be available during the public school day (approximately 8am-3pm) once or twice a week for a total of 3 hours per week. Students are responsible for arranging their own transportation to and from their assigned placement. Note: EDUC 201 is a prerequisite for all Education courses.

EDUC 213 American Mosaic: Integrative Approaches to the Arts in Elementary/Middle School (2)

Teacher candidates of Elementary and Middle School will develop knowledge, understanding, and the ability to use—as appropriate to their own understanding and skills—the content, functions, and achievements of dance, music, theater, and the several visual arts as primary media for communication, inquiry, and insight among elementary and middle school students. An exploration of culturally bound and created arts in the United States will be examined for their application and implementation into four content disciplines in the elementary and middle school curriculum. An emphasis will be placed on integrative and inclusive approaches to teaching and learning the arts. Prerequisite/corequisite: EDUC 240 or with permission.

EDUC 215 Teaching Wellness in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course challenges teacher candidates to develop knowledge, understanding, and the ability to foster the comprehensive nature of students' physical, mental, and social well-being to create opportunities for student development and the practice of skills that contribute to good health. Instructional strategies and skills will focus on health science and physical activity as central elements to foster active, healthy lifestyles and enhanced quality of life for elementary and middle school students. Emphasis will be placed on instructional activities that promote the development of healthy children. Prerequisite/corequisite: EDUC 240 or with permission.

EDUC 220 Applied Media and Instructional Technology (3)

Educational technology can enrich and enhance instructional experiences for both the teacher and student. This class combines theoretical, technical, and experiential components into a single pragmatic approach using technology in the classroom. The National Educational Technology Standards for Teachers (NETS*, 2007) will be used: (1) Facilitate and inspire student learning and creativity, (2) Design and develop digital-age learning experiences and assessments, (3) Model digital-age work and learning, (4) Promote and model digital-age citizenship and responsibility, and (5) Engage in professional growth and leadership. Prerequisite or Corequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 222 Introduction to English as a Second Language in Elementary/Middle School (3)

Introduction to English as a Second Language in Elementary/Middle School is intended for students who plan to teach in a regular classroom setting. This beginning level course examines the world of English as a Second Language (ESL), including linguistics, culture, ESL theories, and ESL methods. Prerequisite or Corequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 230 Educational Psychology: Foundations of Special Education in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed to introduce the historical, philosophical, and legal aspects of providing instruction for exceptional learners in the elementary and middle school. Diagnosis and assessment of exceptionality and the etiology of differences in learning are included. The rights and responsibilities of parents, students, educators, and other professionals will be studied. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 240 General Methods for Elementary/Middle School (3)

Students in this course will be introduced to the complex basic tasks involved in being a teacher. This includes: developing objectives, selecting content/curriculum, creating activities, designing lesson plans, organizing unit plans, and preparing assessments. In addition, issues surrounding classroom management, equity, inclusive education, and differentiation will be explored. Students who have completed this course will have the skills and knowledge needed to successfully enter content specific methods courses in their program. Prerequisite/corequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 301 Teaching Language Arts in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed to develop knowledge and understanding of teaching, learning, and assessment of all areas of literacy including reading, writing, speaking, listening, and thinking. Evidence-based best practices are examined through course readings and experiences. Further insights are gained as learning experiences are planned and implemented in the field classroom. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 201

EDUC 302 Teaching Social Studies in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed to develop knowledge, understanding, and the ability to use the major concepts and modes of inquiry from the social studies—the integrated study of history, geography, the social sciences (such as anthropology, archaeology, economics, political science, psychology, and sociology), and other related areas (such as humanities, law, philosophy, religion, mathematics, science, and technology)—to promote students' abilities to make informed decisions as citizens of a culturally diverse democratic society and interdependent world. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 303 Teaching Science in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed for teacher candidates to develop their knowledge and understanding of the major concepts of physical, life, and earth and space science and to apply this knowledge in teaching at appropriate grade levels. Emphasis is directed at utilizing research-backed science teaching strategies to improving understanding of science concepts in elementary and middle school grades. Opportunities are provided to develop instructional materials, practice writing and teaching science lessons and/or units, apply appropriate technologies, and connect science concepts and processes to other areas of the elementary/middle school curriculum. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 304 Teaching Reading in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed to provide a broad understanding of the foundations of reading development, instruction, and assessment grounded in scientifically based reading research. Knowledge, skills, and teaching strategies essential in implementing a balanced reading program and creating a literacy-rich classroom environment that supports the literacy development of all students are addressed. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 305 Teaching Mathematics in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed to develop knowledge, understanding, and the ability to use major concepts, procedures, and reasoning processes of mathematics that define number systems and number sense, geometry, measurement, statistics and probability, and algebra in order to foster student understanding and use of patterns, quantities, and spatial relationships that can represent phenomena, solve problems, and deal with data. Emphasis is directed at improving understanding of mathematical concepts in elementary and middle school grades while utilizing effective teaching strategies. Opportunity to develop materials, practice writing and teaching mathematics lessons and/or units, and apply mathematics-related technology for the classroom. Development of a personal philosophy of mathematics instruction, awareness of current issues and trends in mathematics and applications of mathematics in the world. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 306 Multicultural Approaches to Teaching of Reading (3)

This course has been designed to assist the teacher in communication with children whose language and cultural backgrounds differ from the majority culture. The course offers practice in adjustment of teaching practices to accommodate differences in cultural values, in selection of teaching materials and techniques most appropriate for reading instruction, and in the development of positive and strong self concepts in children. A variety of cultures are studied, including African-American, Native American, Asian American, and Hispanic-American groups. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 308 Children's Literature in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course explores the diverse genres of children's literature and their vital role in enriching the elementary and middle school curriculum. Students will engage in practical applications and hands-on experiences in order to gain a comprehensive understanding of how to curate a dynamic classroom library to ensure all students find representation and to effectively integrate such texts throughout the English Language Arts program to enrich learning. Key topics include designing a classroom library tailored to diverse student needs, implementing vocabulary instruction through engaging routines, enhancing comprehension skills through genre-specific strategies, and fostering discussions to address critical and complex issues. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 310 Introduction to Early Childhood Education (3)

The theoretical and practical aspects of the development of young children, focusing on different learning theories and the needs of children from birth through age eight. The important educational roles and challenges of a professional educator and significant historical roots and current practices of different early childhood education programs will be studied in order to gain the knowledge, skills, and insights necessary to confidently and appropriately attain the goal of being a leader in educating young children, parents, and families. Prerequisite or Corequisite: EDUC 201 or with permission.

EDUC 311 Curriculum and Assessment in Early Childhood Education (3)

A study of the curriculum and instructional materials for young children from three through age eight. Special focus is given to planning developmentally appropriate curriculum and practice in which child-centered and integrated curriculum are used to support children's meaningful learning in sociomoral, cognitive, representational, and physical development. Prerequisite EDUC 310 or with permission.

EDUC 325 Clinical Field Study (0)

This clinical experience integrates knowledge and skills with professional practice in the elementary/secondary classroom.

EDUC 335 Clinical Field Study (0)

This clinical experience integrates knowledge and skills with professional practice in the elementary/secondary classroom.

EDUC 345 Curriculum and Assessment in Middle/High School (3)

This course provides teacher candidates the opportunity to further define their role as teachers of adolescents in the middle and high school classroom. Through designing curriculum focused on big ideas that span time and culture, engaging, rigorous units will be constructed. Students will learn and use traditional, as well as authentic and performance-based assessment, as a way to teach diverse student populations. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 201

EDUC 346 Literacy Strategies and Classroom Management in Middle/High School (3)

Building on the knowledge and skills gained in EDUC 345, teacher candidates will learn how to address literacy issues, as well as how to tier and differentiate instruction in a well-managed middle/high school classroom. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 201

EDUC 350 Educational Psychology: Human Growth and Development of the Middle/High School Student (3)

This course will focus on the special issues facing middle and secondary school students. Motivation, classroom management techniques and test design are included within the framework of three approaches to adolescent psychology: behaviorism, cognitivism, and humanism. Discussion of several leading theories of moral development, cultural differences, and multicultural concepts will be covered. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 352 Educational Psychology: Human Growth & Development of the Pre-School/Elementary/Middle School Student (3)

The primary purpose of this course is to examine the application of psychological theory to the teaching/learning process. Teacher candidates will study typical physical, social, emotional, and cognitive characteristics, various developmental stage theories, types of motivation, learning theories, teaching methodologies, and classroom management strategies that have developed from them, as well as methods of measurement and evaluation. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 356 Educational Psychology: Educating Exceptional Learners in Middle/High School (3)

The focus of this course is on instructional strategies that meet the learning needs of the middle and high school student with disabilities. Special education legislation, programming, and the role of the general education teacher in providing interventions will be emphasized. The use of assessment information in order to provide appropriate services is a topic of discussion. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 362 Positive Behavioral Support (3)

This course focuses on teaching and managing the learning environment for students with mild disabilities. Legal regulations regarding the implementation of functional behavioral assessment will be examined. Students will explore the specific components of this assessment and its use in formulating behavioral intervention plans, as well as strategies that foster and teach social skills to students with mild disabilities. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience. (3 hours rotation is required) Prerequisites: EDUC 201.

EDUC 365 Assessment Strategies/Exceptional Learners (3)

This course focuses on the referral and placement process for students with mild disabilities. Multiple forms of assessment and the mild disability teacher's role in administration will be examined. Emphasis will be placed on the selection, use and interpretation of various instruments, and use of assessment information in the identification and placement of students with mild disabilities. Exploration of the assessment process in relation to Individualized Educational Plans will be a specific focus. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (3 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisites: EDUC 201.

EDUC 368 Intervention Strategies in Reading and Other Content Areas (3)

Emphasis in this course is placed on teaching strategies that are shown to be successful with students who need mild curricular and instructional interventions. Multisensory Structured Language Education aligned with elements of scientifically based reading research will be a focus. Interventions in other content areas will be addressed with a highlight on evidence-based approaches. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (3 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisites: EDUC 230, EDUC 240.

EDUC 372 Education in Great Britain and Ireland (2,3)

This course engages the preservice teacher in the study of education in Great Britain and Ireland with appropriate discussions and lectures. Visits will be made to schools and teaching centers in Ireland, Scotland, and England. Conducted as a special summer offering only. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 390 Special Topics (1-12)

An experimental, student or faculty initiated course on a topic not covered in detail in the regular curriculum. May be repeated. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 404 Content Area Literacy Instruction (3)

The course focuses on evidence-based best practices related to content area literacy. Teacher candidates will develop a thorough understanding of the comprehension and analysis of informational and persuasive texts. Integration of reading and writing, critical reading, assessment, related literature, intervention and extension strategies, and ongoing progress monitoring will be emphasized. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 406 Reading Assessment and Intervention in Elementary/Middle School (3)

This course is designed to enable teacher candidates to identify pupils who have difficulty reading regular class material and to prescribe an appropriate course of action for the remediation of the pupils' skills. Emphasis will be placed on the reading process and teaching methodologies, causes of reading difficulties, utilization of diagnostic materials and remedial techniques for all children. Spring semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 240.

EDUC 408 Fostering the Development of Culturally Responsive Teachers Through Experiential Learning (3)

This course provides preservice teachers the opportunity to further define their role as teachers in a multicultural society. The course is based in the premise that when we understand our own culture, we can better understand the cultural backgrounds of our students. With that understanding in place, we can connect to our students and the community. Through the use of experiential learning in a setting beyond the Saint Mary's College community, students will have active, unscripted interactions with people and settings outside of their lived experience, interpreted through class discussions informed by course readings, guest speakers, and film. Prerequisite: EDUC 201.

EDUC 425 Clinical Field Study (0)

This clinical experience integrates knowledge and skills with professional practice in the elementary/secondary classroom.

EDUC 430 Foundations of English as a Second Language (ESL) and Bilingual/Bicultural Education (BBE) (3)

Taken as HCC 365 at Holy Cross College. The course introduces the historical and cultural contexts of ESL/BBE, theories of second language acquisition (SLA), and resulting models of SLA, ESL, and BBE, with particular attention to current models, such as Dual Language Instruction. Students will examine successful ESL/BBE program elements. The teacher candidate must complete a pedagogical Standard American English (SAE) grammar component and an SAE phonology component at satisfactory levels. Analysis and evaluation of language samples of an ESL or a BBE student are also required. Spring semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Pre or Co-requisites: ENLT 304, and one of the following: COMM 350, ICS 201, ANTH 141, or ANTH 253.

EDUC 432 Methods and Materials of English as a Second Language (ESL) and Bilingual/Bicultural Education (BBE) (3)

Taken as HCC 365 at Holy Cross College. In this course, teacher candidates learn about and practice effective methods of instructional delivery for ESL/BBE students. They analyze commercially prepared materials and engage in materials design, and teaching with those materials. They explore assessment issues in the ESL/BBE context. They find out various ways to enhance communication with ESL and BBE parents and communities. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Fall semester only. Pre or Co-requisite EDUC 430

EDUC 434 Collaboration and Consultation in Special Education (3)

This course focuses on communication and collaborative partnerships that will contribute to success for the exceptional child across the full spectrum of services available for mild intervention. Emphasis is placed on the teacher's interaction with parents, other professionals, and agencies in the community. The components of effective team meetings for the purposes of assessment, evaluation, and programming will be explored. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisites: EDUC 201.

EDUC 443 Teaching Social Studies in Middle/High School (3)

This course provides an orientation to teaching techniques, learning strategies, and curriculum development for secondary social studies. Emphasis is placed on the subject matter content areas of social studies. Peer teaching, planning, and field work experiences offer the student occasions to create and facilitate learning opportunities; select, integrate, and adapt curriculum; analyze and evaluate primary and secondary resources from print and non-print media; and develop and practice teaching skills in specific content areas(s). Fall semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 346.

EDUC 445 Teaching Modern Languages in Middle/High School (3)

The course focuses on the methodology of content-based second language instruction. It provides background in second language acquisition research, elaborates upon the concept of content-based second language instruction and presents methods and activities designed to develop language skills within a content-based instruction paradigm. Fall semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 346.

EDUC 447 Teaching English in Middle/High School (3)

This course provides teacher candidates the opportunity to specifically apply their content knowledge in English to adolescents in the middle school and/or high school classroom. Through immersion in the design of curriculum units, instructional strategies, including reading, and traditional, as well as alternative and authentic assessments, they will learn to create effective learning experiences for diverse student populations. Fall semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 346.

EDUC 449 Teaching Science in Middle/High School (3)

The purpose of this course is to develop the necessary skills and techniques to become effective secondary science teachers. Teacher candidates will acquire a variety of: (1) foundational skills and concepts related to technology; (2) instructional strategies to adapt and plan instruction to meet student needs; (3) laboratory and field-based learning activities; (4) classroom management techniques to establish and maintain an environment conducive to learning science; and (5) techniques for assessing student outcomes. Fall semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 346.

EDUC 451 Teaching Mathematics in Middle/High School (3)

This course is designed to discuss current developments in contemporary mathematics, identify and apply principles of learning mathematical concepts and use a variety of methods in teaching mathematics at the secondary level. Teacher candidates will (1) plan instruction for a variety of ability levels; (2) plan a mathematics program for a multicultural setting; (3) locate and use a variety of materials for secondary mathematics; (4) write, teach, and evaluate mathematical concepts; (5) discuss a variety of alternative assessment methods and (6) participate in professional organizations. The course follows guidelines for the preparation of teaching of mathematics set forth by NCTM and MAA. Fall semester only. Field experience will require a semester-long field experience (5 hours per week.) Transportation is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 346.

EDUC 466 Communicating Climate Science (3)

In the ongoing dialogue on climate science and climate change, it's crucial that women's voices be heard. An understanding of how gender roles influence how people experience, communicate, and practice climate change science is important if we are to capitalize on the abilities of women to be impactful agents of good climate stewardship. With this in mind, EDUC 466 is designed for undergraduate students interested in improving their conceptual understanding of climate science and climate change through engaging in activities, demonstrations and discussions, while also developing their science communication skills to advance the public's climate literacy. The course will combine science content, active teaching and learning methods based on how people learn, and how to engage in effective interactions. Students will have opportunities to address issues of gender and gender bias in STEM and examine how their individual talents in STEM might be harnessed to support women around the world as they communicate climate science and/or experience the effects of climate change. no prerequisites.

EDUC 471 Student Teaching in Elementary/Special Education Classroom (12)

Student teaching is a semester-long experience under the supervision of qualified cooperating teachers and a college supervisor. The experience includes observation, participation, full time teaching, and conferences. Student teachers will follow the calendar of the host school. The Education Portfolio is required. Submission of application for instructional license in the state of Indiana is recommended. Student teaching fee required. Graded S/U.

EDUC 472 Student Teaching in Elementary School (12)
