Advanced Writing Proficiency

Each student who completes this requirement in Global Studies will submit her written senior comprehensive project for evaluation.

Senior Comprehensive

A student who elects to complete her Senior Comprehensive requirement in Global Studies will carry out a research project grounded in a topic related to her area of concentration. She will develop and present a proposal during Senior Seminar in the fall of her senior year. The proposal will include a hypothesis or research question, the design of the study and methodologies to be used, significance of the question, and a bibliography. In the spring semester of senior year, Global Studies majors will make oral and written presentations of their projects to a committee comprised of faculty teaching within the concentration areas and/or the Global Studies core disciplines.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Demonstrate knowledge about the relationship between culture and identity.
- Students identify ways in which intercultural contact has shaped patterns of behavior and critically examine the dynamics of intercultural interaction in different contexts.
- Students demonstrate knowledge of the roots of particular forms of privilege and subordination and locate and examine their own position relative to systems of privilege, disadvantage, and resistance.
